

The Tamarack

is a species of larch native to northern North America. It is a small to medium-size deciduous coniferous tree that is very cold tolerant, able to survive winter temperatures down to at least -65°C , and commonly occurs at the arctic tree line at the edge of the tundra.

Similarly, the Tamarack by MossCreek is a small home designed to challenge the natural elements, keeping you warm in the harshest of conditions.

Copyright 2008 MossCreek

These Plans Available for Purchase

Main Level: 1,218 s.f.
Upper Level: 772 s.f.
Total: 1,940 s.f.

MOSSCREEK Luxury Made Simple

www.MossCreek.net
800.737.2166